PHOENIX UNION HIGH SCHOOL

PHOENIX, ARIZONA

PRESENTS OUR PLACE

IN THE SUN

THOUSANDS applauded our Valley of the Sun float in the Pasadena Rose Parade. Passengers include Miss Arizona and her attendants. Lynn Freyse, Tucson High School, is Miss Arizona.

Our Proud Place In The Sun

Years ago when the Salt River area was dubbed "Valley of the Sun," Old Sol was just something that helped the winter tourist trade. Now, our Valley is the world center of solar research. The Solar Energy Commission held its world conference here where our brilliant sunlight is the perfect ingredient for this exploitation of nature's unsolved mysteries.

Regardless of the cynics and scoffers, solar research has proved itself. No one can deny that the time is coming when our dwindling coal and oil resources will be reinforced by solar energy. Even nuclear fission may take a back seat to the modern conveniences made available through the sun. Every Phoenician is an active participant as the Valley of the Sun ushers in a new age. Wonderful factories and research centers are springing up. Our once drowsy Valley is wide awake to new opportunities. We are thrilled, eager, and willing to take "Our Place in the Sun."

Radio antenna spires reach for the sky in this view of the Boys' Gymnasium. Building also houses Art Department, Auto Engines Shop, Driver Education, and Unit Warehouse.

Science Hall . . . home of chemistry, biology, physics, and physiography classes. Here one can build foundations for research and growth in the bright new Atomic Age.

Leadership is a necessary ingredient of progress. Phoenix Union's right place in the Sun has been no accident. Much credit must go to our capable principal, James S. Carter, to whom this 1957 Phoenician is dedicated.

ADMINISTRATION

Principal-Elect Well Prepared

Vice Principal McCullar

From dean of boys to vice principal to principal. That's the success story of Mr. Earl McCullar, who will head the Phoenix Union High School administration next fall. The new executive succeeds Principal James S. Carter, who will be head man at Phoenix Central High School which opens next fall.

The Board of Education made no mistake in selecting Earl McCullar for this responsibility. Backed by years of experience as a coach, teacher, and administrator, Mr. McCullar is well aware of the potential and present value of a technical high school. He has the backing and loyalty of this school's faculty and students. They know he will steer Phoenix Union on a steady course of progress.

WELCOME to Phoenix Union, Mr. Pyle! The former Arizona governor is given an honor guard as he enters the campus. Mr. McCullar escorts him to the Auditorium where Mr. Pyle was featured speaker at the annual Christmas assembly ushering the Yule Season. Student Body President Kent Olson is walking in left background

Their Wisdom Helps Us Grow

LEADER: Supt Bruce Moore, in his first year as executive head of our PUHS system, has proved his leadership while winning friends with the school personnel and the public

Opening of Carl Hayden and Central High Schools next fall will add extra burdens and responsibility to hardworking members of the Board of Education and Superintendent Moore. A few years ago, with the closing of Carver, and later when Phoenix Union and Tech combined, the number of schools shrank to six. Now again their burden has risen to eight, seven large high schools and Phoenix College

We can be assured that each decision made by the Board will be a wise move, not only for the present, but also for the future of the Phoenix Union High Schools. With their guidance and inspiration, our system has become one of the nation's largest and most progressive. How much it will grow in the years to come depends in part on them. We have faith in their integrity, wisdom, and judgment.

OUR BOARD: Jay Hyde, Dr. Trevor G. Browne, Mrs. F. A. Bons, Dr. Charles S. Purtymun, Jr., Frank Haze Burch

Pausing momentarily to "watch the birdie and say cheese" are Registrar's office workers—Top Row: Betty Williams, Ann Bedell, Doris Walters, Terri Baumel,

Spinning Wheels of Progress

How workers in the Registrar's Office ever manage to remain sane is beyond comprehension! Trying to cope with the endless stream of problems presented them by the students is a task most people would shun. It's a good thing our RO friends don't

The school would really go into a tail spin without their expert handling of the "red tape." Headed by Registrar Robert Blackman, they must keep separate the countless pink slips, brown slips, green slips, and yellow slips that keep the wheels turning

Three cheers for these tireless problem solvers and their devotion to their work above and beyond the call of duty! After hours work is not unusual for the Registrar's staff nor for Registrar Blackman. While the rest of us are taking it easy during vacation periods, you can find the wheels of progress still whirling over in Building One

Mr. Blackman came to Phoenix Union High School when Phoenix Technical School merged with PUHS. He has been the head of the Registrar's department for two years. The Registrar's office does more than check absences, it also figures out student grade averages — a stupendous task — and keeps permanent class records for all teachers at Phoenix Union.

Registrar Robert Blackman

They Help Us Solve Problems

ASSISTANT Principal Gates radiates friendliness with a smile that could bring offers from a toothpaste manufacturer. Well liked and efficient, Mr Gates has smoothed the rough path for many a "problem" student here

If you never have a problem that seems almost impossible to solve, you're either very unusual . . . or just too tired to care. And since that excludes most of us, we have problems

All of us have problems . . . about our class work, or future, our scholastic progress, and our social behaviour. And when those problems loom too large, we either feel like throwing, quitting in disgust . . . or we do the wise thing and go to those who are trained to help us

You are low on money . . . and somebody swipes your algebra book; a tough jerk in Period 2 roughs you up for no reason at all, you like history but are allergic to the teacher, you think maybe it's best to quit school and go to work . . . Problems! Problems! But a quiet chat with one of the advisers can set us on the right track again, as hundreds have learned. School is the right place to be for teenagers. America needs well trained citizens

IF YOU EVER need a friend to listen to your woes or start machinery to rolling, call on any of these genial advisers. From left are Henry Jones, boys' adviser-elect for 1957-'58, Dean of Girls Iscah Mateer, and Boys' Adviser William Davis

DECORATIVE indeed are these secretaries! Seated are Reatha Hallmark, Rosemary Chavez, Gail Larson, Louise

Arthur, Gladys L. Tussey. BACK: Catherine Addison, Wanda Franklin, Patricia Fraser, Lorraine Walkington

Efficiency . . . With Charm

When the phone jangles, the outer office fills up with insistent visitors, and the morning mail screams for attention, who goes to work? The secretary, of course! Every successful business man attributes much of his progress to the efficient help of a "Girl Friday" who skillfully handles the countless details of a hectic day . . . a worker with a ready smile.

Administrators require the services of well-trained secretaries. Stacks of correspondence, perplexed students and/or parents, a constantly ringing phone, files to check, data to locate, messages to relay . . . ! Yes, it takes someone with strength as well as charm to front for the boss. Moreover, the secretaries like our school . . . and they don't mind work!

BUSY SIGNALS are commonplace in the lives of these busy ladies who keep the switchboard lights tamed and the Principal's Office business in smooth-running order. Shown on the job are Nadine Dearing and Betty Pretzer

Budgeteer

ACCOUNTS square up neatly under direction of Business Mgr. Carl Allen

Budget wise and wary is Mr. Carl Allen, unit business manager under whose supervision thousands of dollars in student funds are handled each week. But teachers, administrators, and students long since have learned that if you go about this business of high finance with reasonable caution and follow the acceptable procedure, everything will go smoothly.

Happy, too, are those who seek school supplies at our well-stocked Bookstore. Many are the bargains in books, paper, and sundry items. The Bookstore also houses a handsome trophy case and the walls are lined with attractive pictures of current student body leaders. More appealing, however, than the decorations in the Bookstore are the pleasant clerks there.

CUSTOMERS are never lacking at the Bookstore. But then, neither is the service! Here students get prompt attention from smiling, efficient clerks Amy Armstrong, Violet Harding, Sunny Boatman, and K. E. Hirst.

At The Helm

GUIDING lights of the student body include Kent Olsen, president; Carlos Yturalde, vice president; Evangeline Yee, secretary; and Joe Bentas, representative-at-large for Phoenix Union

Here We Live Our Democracy

Best way to teach democracy and the American way of life is to practice it! Hundreds of Phoenix Union High Students each year establish the truth of that premise. With our Board of Control and Student Council acting out "government by, for, and of the students" every Phoenician was part of democratic process.

When a student violates a rule, he will be judged without prejudice by "jurors" who understand his problems and will give him every benefit of the doubt. Student Council representatives meet regularly to discuss and legislate for student body progress. Through representatives, students voice their opinions.

BUSY BOARD of Control concentrate on a problem on their busy agenda. SEATED are Mr. Waters, Evangeline

Yee, Kent Olson, Carlos Yturralde STANDING are Joe Benites, Chris McGinnis, Pete Zorbas, and Ken Reed

Every Student Has A Voice...

At the sound of the third hour bell some 179 school leaders flock to the auditorium for a Student Council meeting. The council is the main voice of the students themselves, and arguments are often heated and always interesting. Each person represents and voices the opinion of his or her third hour class; it is a government of, by, and for students.

IN SESSION the Student Council hears a report from Reed as officers Yturralde, Olson, and Lee listen attentively. The Student Council promoted the Polio Vaccine drive which proved very successful at Phoenix Union

viser Jones, Holmes, Jackson, Conner, Crookston, Guzman. STANDING are Russell, Caccavale, and Nelson

Federation Lads Keep Busy

Leading the way in male activities is the Boys' Federation. Open to every boy who wishes to help in the betterment of his school, this organization ranks high because of its democracy and service. Handicapped financially by loss of the 1957 Follies, the boys persisted

In co-sponsoring the Frontier Dance with the Girls' Letter Club, the boys bolstered their dwindling treasury. Also popular records graced the Cafeteria jukebox. As usual, crowding in lines during lunch periods was held to a minimum, thanks to the Federation boys

BOOKS for needy boys get the attention of Corbin, Federation Prexy Jackson, Hamby, and Joe Guzman. Books are added to the Dean's Loan Library.

Co-Operation Is Keynote Here

BY WORKING TOGETHER, Girls' League guided hundreds of girls through another fun-filled, work-filled year. Holding the League banner higher than ever was the Central Council, composed of outstanding girls from each of the four classes. Their activities were many.

WORKERS! Central Council took time off from its many activities to pose for Phoenician picture. In Row 1 are Ong, Walker, Bacon, Fulton, Byrd, Young, and Meza.

Busier than the busiest of Coyotes, these girls sponsored two formals, attended state and interstate conventions, "adopted" several elderly ladies, and still found time to lend their support to girls in need of books, clothing, and lunches. Food sales padded treasury.

Row 2: Zanin, Cardwell, Stow, Chapman, Koy, Mabry, Caldwell, Bandy, and D. Fung. Top Row: Wright, Torres, Tom, Holly, Wong, B. Fung, Yaben, Wingfield, and Felix.

Working For Health, Safety

Health and Safety go hand in hand towards making one a better person. At Phoenix Union everything is done to make students realize the importance of these two words. Our driver training program is set up to make students of our school aware of traffic responsibilities

The various clubs at school sponsor health drives all year around. With the assistance of faculty advisers everything is done to make us more capable motorists and healthier persons. The school does its share; we're learning we must do our part as conscientious citizens

SAFETY COUNCIL members are gathered around their exhibit to demonstrate results of careless driving. This wrecked car was brought to the Quad to arouse students'

MEMBERSHIP drive opens with a flourish. Mrs. Webber and Mrs. Neer are on the job at the PTA fall dinner.

Co-Operation Their Byword

Scholarships, dinners, awards, and inoculations are part of the many activities Phoenix Union's Parent-Teacher Association has taken an active part in during the school year. Programs have included the annual PTA dinner, and an honor award to Principal James Carter PTA mothers helped when students were given the Salk anti-polio shots and had eyes and ears tested. They also organized panel discussions relating to teen-age problems. PTA Board included students Loretta Lyons, Alan Wick, Margaret Bandy, and Rudy Garcia.

FRIENDS meet at the annual PTA Dinner. Student Joe Martin (standing) greets Mr. and Mrs. Ben Avery and their daughters Margie and Mary

In The Vanguard

CHAIRMAN of the T & I Department is Harry L. Crockett. His long experience in technical fields and his understanding of teachers and students have helped to apply the success label.

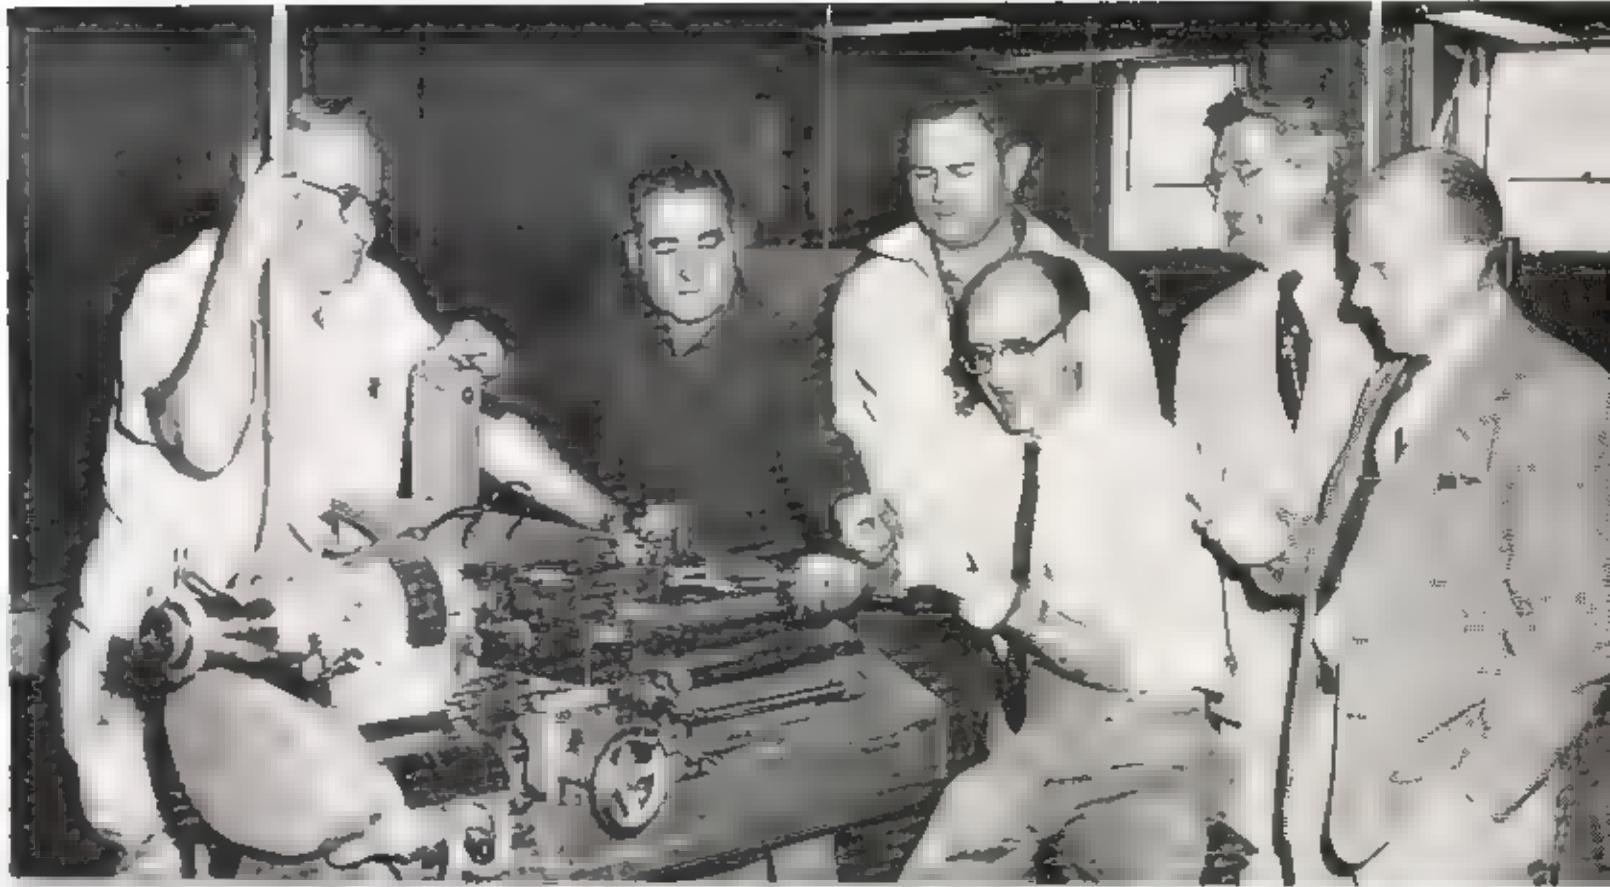

At the helm in the development of our Atomic Age are scientists and technicians whose lives are devoted to progress. At our technical high school we are fortunate in the quality of leadership that shapes our objectives. Yesterday we dreamed about electronics, solar power, the atom . . . and today we're in the middle of an exciting new age. Young people with a desire to learn new techniques and to be a part of this program find ready guidance and inspiration here. Our future glows brightly

T & I

John E. Krönenbitter, Refrigeration; Frank E. Franquero, Machine Shop, R. W. Hackleman, Mechanical Drafting; Andrew F. Davis, Refrigeration; Gordon Furnish, Aircraft Power Plant, Henry G. Walters, and (seated, right) Advanced Machine Shop

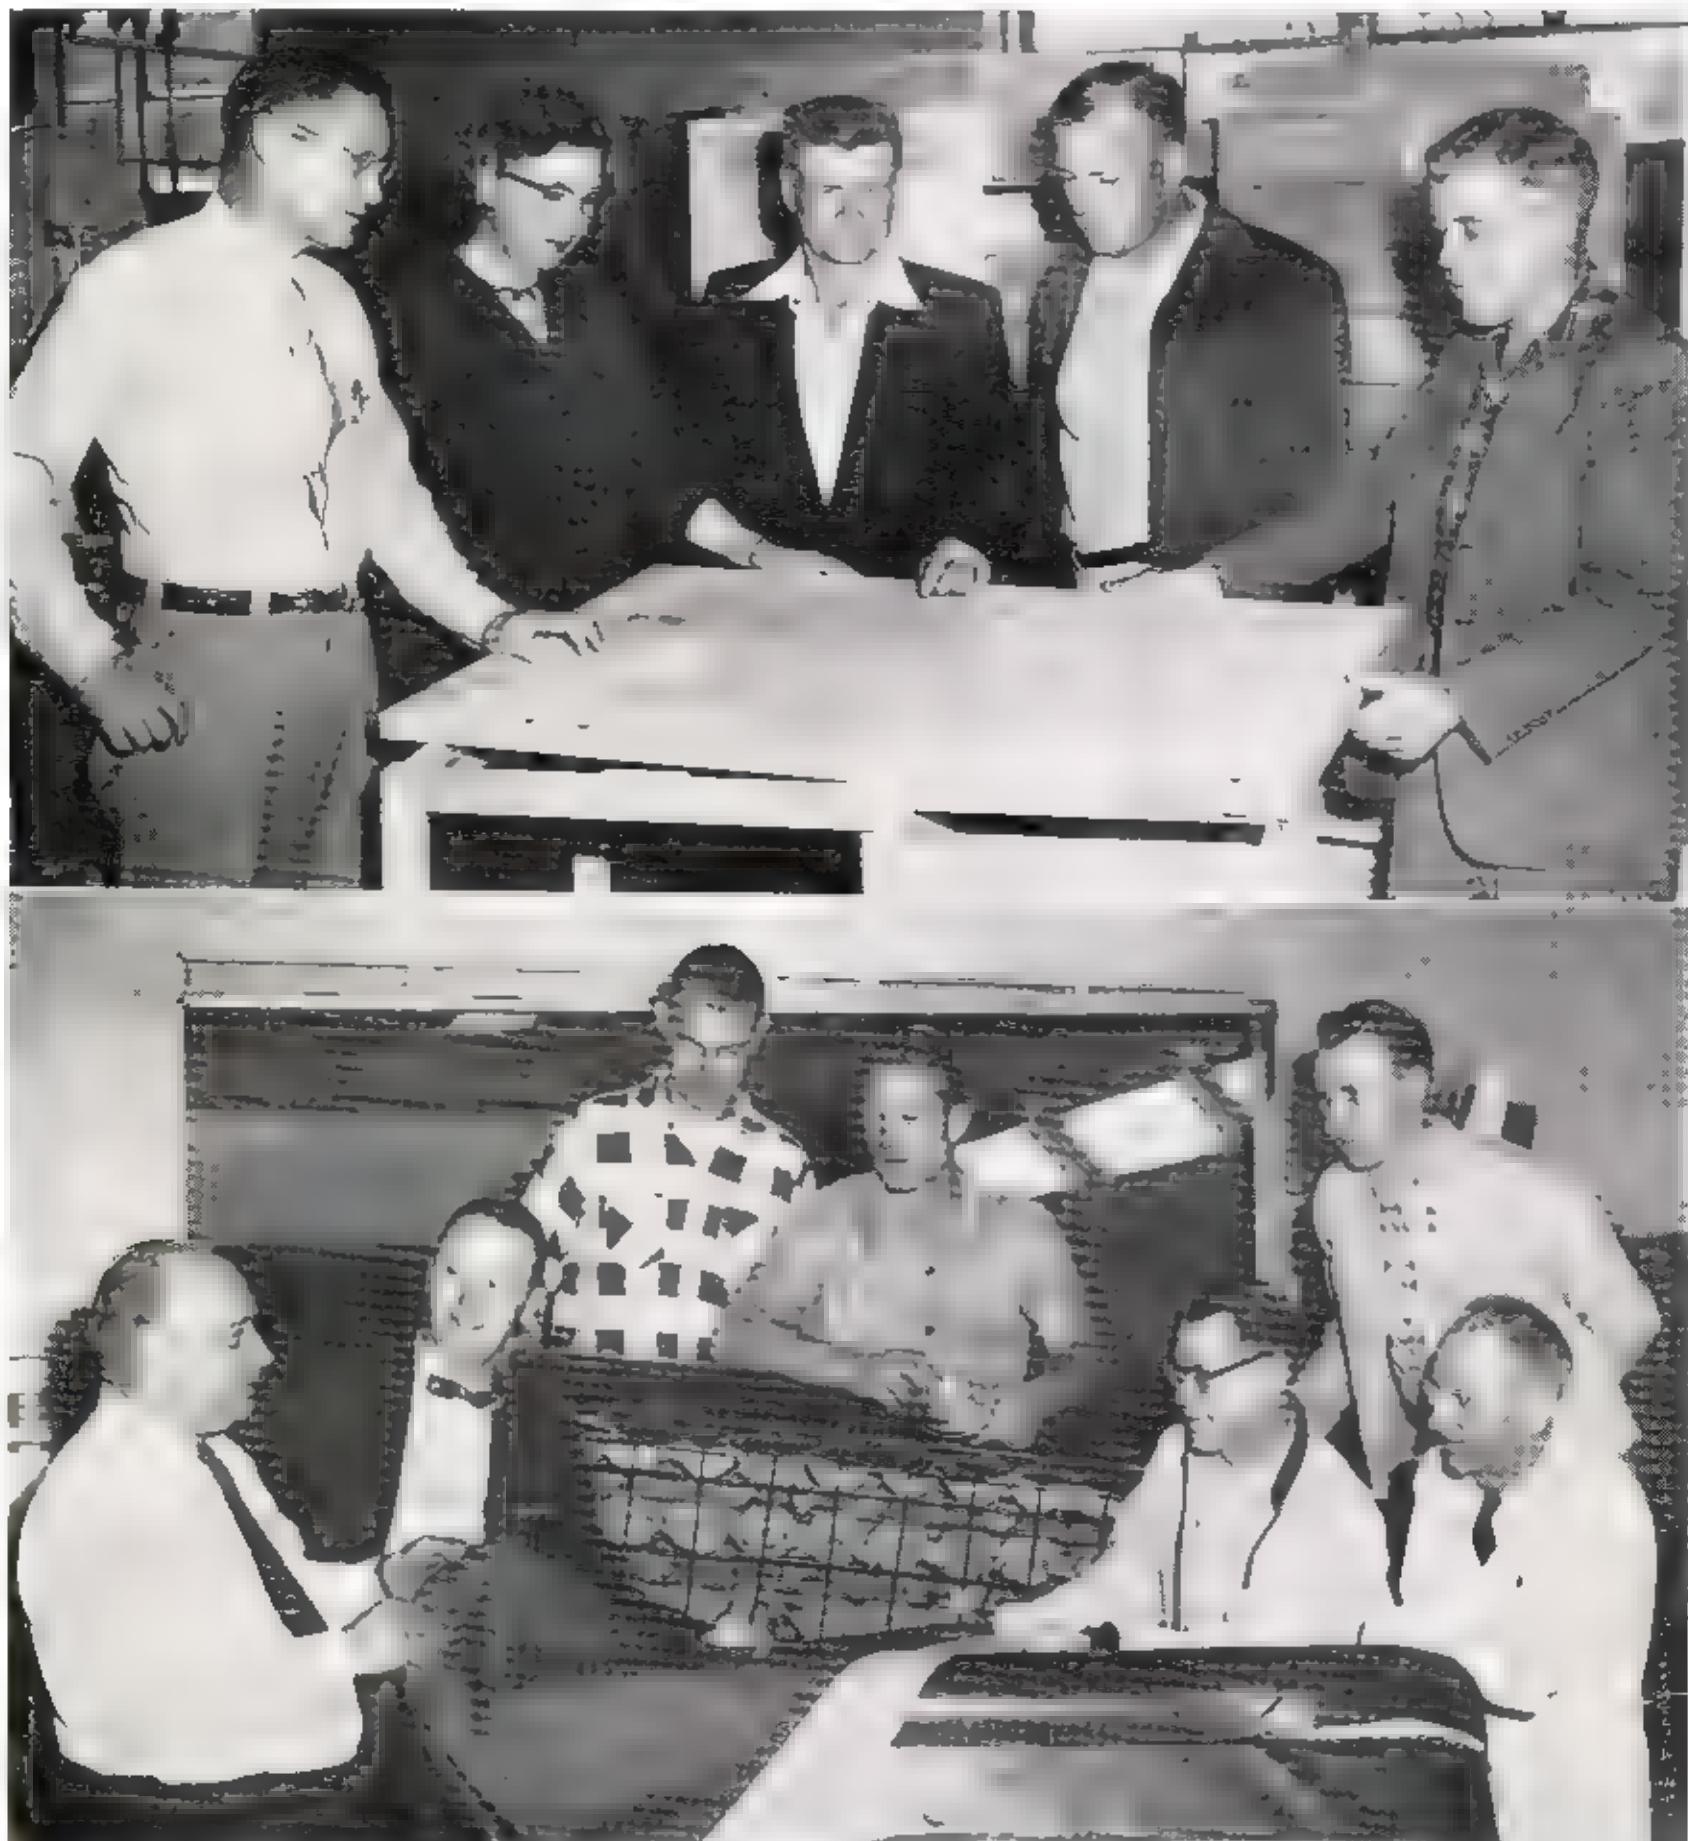

J. Paul Moore, Welding, Lawrence N. Tenes, Welding, Hugh L. Bankhead, Architectural Drafting, Homer D. Dukes, Sheet Metal; Bobby Boan, Welding

WELL MADE hardwood desks being built for Phoenix College attract the attention of T & I teachers. From left: William A. Pusey, Industrial Electricity; Iva Curlee, Clothing and Design, Leith Everett, Industrial Electricity, George G. Holt, Carpentry; Edwin W. Hanson, Cabinet Making. UPHOLSTER your car? The T & I boys can do

Burch, Auto Body and Fender, LeRoy Stevens, Radio and TV, William H. Voights, Radio and Television, Frank M. Gray, Radio Instructors apply their practical knowledge to theory.

How To Launch A Career . . .

Our Trades and Industries instructors carry the interested high school student far beyond the hobby or do-it-yourself stage. Many reach a point from which they can launch a career in an exciting, profitable field. Available, for example, is expert instruction in carpentry, sheet metal, electricity, electronics, welding, aircraft, automotive, and architectural drafting

Girls, too, are finding a future in clothing design, commercial art, and other fascinating areas. The fact that many young people are learning techniques that bring bigger pay checks than their parents can earn is only one reason for their obvious enthusiasm. Perhaps more important is the challenge they encounter as they delve more and more into this new work.

They're Alert

WHAT'S NEW? Agriculture Instructors Elmer Felton, Millard Fourt, and Wendell Smith check the latest news magazines for ideas on scientific farming and marketing. They co-sponsor the Future Farmers of America club.

How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm
? So went the old World War I song
With the city growing out into every cotton field and cow pasture, the song might have been How You Gonna Keep the Farm? But there will always be farmers and stockmen, for people will never grow tired of eating and wearing clothes! To keep our future farmers up on the best techniques Phoenix Union has an experienced staff and a dandy experimental farm as a laboratory. Farm is on Southern Ave.

Industrial arts serves a serious purpose in helping young people find their particular interest vocationally. It also gives basic training in hobbies and general about-the-house usefulness. Practical experience and much schooling have equipped our teachers to do an expert job of guiding students in such fundamental skills as machine shop, auto repairing, drafting, printing, leather and metal craft, and radio. Many have fun; a number find a rewarding and interesting life's work

INDUSTRIAL Arts teachers meet in Radio Shop for a friendly discussion. STANDING are Barney Shehane, Radio, Department Chairman Harry L. Crockett, Harry Furphy, Metalcraft; Duane Cornelius, Leathercraft; Henry Jones, Wood Shop; Byron (Doc) Hughes, Advanced Printing; Zen's Prust, Printing. SITTING are Don Coursen, Mechanical Drawing, Frank Downey, Plastics; Lloyd Jamison, Machine Shop, and W. V. G. Hoger, Auto Mechanics

Facultease!

WHILE Mr. Ewart (top center) seems to be rejecting a transfer to North High, Miss Nicolay (left) shows the safe way to hand out report cards and Mr. Felton (right) seems to be on a date with a cute chick. BELOW: Mr. McCullar's sole doesn't need saving Yet! RIGHT: Dr. Brown "sticks" to his promise about anti-polio shots for school personnel. Hordes of students were on hand to witness the parade of teachers and personnel lined up for the shots. And they teased unmercifully any queasy soul.

Whenever You Need Advice

So you are good in math, English. Is that everything? When a feller needs a friend . . . he has one in his counselor. Having weathered the long road of experimentation of a little-developed area, the counseling program has advanced to a point of efficiency that adds immeasurably to the student's well being. Tests, measures, and careful diagnosis have helped especially the student who just couldn't seem to find his goal, or his future clear.

Not too long ago, a student might struggle through all his high school years held back by a handicap, physical or otherwise, that could easily have been adjusted had he been properly counseled. Many a student is steered into a more practical, suitable vocation because of a thoughtful and wise counselor. The "three R's" are fine in education, but the other factors that can so influence one's life are even more important to the individual student.

Business As Usual

Electronic brains seem to be shoving a number of accounting and mathematics experts into the background — or out into the street, if one would believe all the rumors. Nothing could be further from the facts. As our Electronic Age advances more and more fields open up for the skilled worker. Business opportunities are the real frontiers today, and young people with vision quickly see that path.

Electric typewriters and super calculating machines still require operators; the boss still must get letters out to his customers and supervisors; data on costs and profits, evaluations, estimates, and time sheets are more than ever necessary. All this means that young people trained in special fields will command good pay and proper respect. Our teachers have know-how, equipment, and enthusiasm.

WHAT JOY is more keen than an office machine, these genial Business Education instructors seem to be saying. But it is all in fun, regardless! Seated, from left, are Edith Haner, William Mason, Hazel Gaddis, Betty Mc-

Cubbin, E. Ray Sharridge, Theodore Borek, and Virginia Rearn. STANDING: Merle Lange, Vivian Phillips, Charles Cox, John Caceletta, Alton Riggs, Ruth Bradish, Richard Smith, and Pauline Poteet. They all know their stuff!

HEADLINE hunters (above) are History Instructors J. J. Wagoner, Charles Farrell, Eric Kolberg, Don Ellis, Jeanne Larson, and Edward Herzberg. BELOW: World maps and

Our World's In A Whirl

What'll you have: Egyptian-Israeli hot sauce, Chinese Red peppers, or Hungarian goulash with Kremlin tank-krunchies! Whatever your newspaper menu these days, it's bound to be sizzling. Far off in America, where the next TV spectacular seems more important than the threat of an angry aggressor, the student of history can realize only vaguely what's happening in many countries over the world at large

More experienced in the ways of World Wars and economic ills, our Social Education teachers bring before their students the true picture of current events analyzed in terms of history. The world is whirling much too fast for any of us to know exactly what might happen next. But a basic understanding of social trends, economics, and the cause and effect of wars will bring us close to the truth.

Time Out!

FACULTY MEMBERS and guests celebrated Washington's Birthday . . . but with barbecued beef and square dancing rather than cherry pie. ABOVE: Lined up for chow at Bud Brown's Barn Making with the cowboy legs is Mr Vaughn. That's Coach Patterson near the post. BELOW: Yummmy! The smell of that good beef intrigues these happy and hungry customers. RIGHT: A square dance routine includes "swing 'er 'round and 'round." When away from our staid influence, teachers really cut up

KICK HIGHER, Nellie! Ladies of the Physical Ed Department prove their youthfulness at the Faculty Frolic. Bud Brown's Barn was the scene of festivities which included (below) a "spelling bee" which panicked the crowd. Did you ever see teachers more relaxed than in this snap? You'll recognize Messrs. Winningham, Wagoner, Goodson, Saunders, and Coursen

Teachers Also Like To Play!

When the teakettle gets to overboiling, it blows its top. And when teachers reach a point of overstress . . . they have a party such as the Faculty Frolic at Brown's Barn last February. Never has so much fun been had by so many. They kicked up their heels in gay abandon . . . wolfed down plate-loads of barbecued beef; they danced, played games, and yipped with glee.

In general charge was Chairman Herzberg of the Entertainment Committee. Mr. George Endres as MC handled job like a professional, calling square dances and engineering games.

HARMONIOUS people are these! Music teachers (above) are Kathleen Hergt, Alfred Clifton (seated) and Milton K. Rasbury, H. F. Edwards, Harvey Zorn, Pat Lebs, and Eugene Lombardi. FOREIGN language teachers (below) include Martha Robbins, Marguerite Marshall, Maxwell

Powell, Blanche Adams, Rose Plummer, and Hazel Redewill. Pleasant association with fellow teachers makes the school work lighter. It also reflects in a more co-operative attitude among students. Both faculty and student body know that we are building ideals of good citizenship p

Their Goal: Good Citizenship

ANNING a busy program for the students in PE are (seated) Betty Fairfax, Muriel Maxey, Joyce Sanders, Lucene King. STANDING: Harriet Mitten, Annette McDonald, Mona Plummer

You Learn To Co-Operate . . .

If you want a place in the sun, sign up for physical ed! Never has there been such an extensive program in student sports as we now enjoy. The Girls' Gymnasium has been enlarged and modernized, as has their large playing field to the north. The Boys' Gym, busy from morning to night, is no more active than the Building A Gym, which features gymnastics and wrestling matches periodically.

STRATEGY is sure to be brewing when Coyote coaches get together; SEATED are Dave Goodson, R. R. Robinson, Wendell Patterson, Glenn Beerline. STANDING: Sam

Physical Education teachers are well trained athletes and instructors from the first, but as students learn to know them, a friendly spirit grows until the whole atmosphere of physical ed is one of happy participation. No student is pushed beyond his capabilities, but all who want to try out for the team have that chance. Every experience leads to the best lesson possible: how to get along with others.

Winningham, George Endres, Ed Long, Martin March, and Lowell Bailey. Coaches who also teach Driver Education are William Saunders and Jim Winningham.

Eyes — Ears — Memories —

See no evil; hear no evil; say no evil, goes an old maxim. The Audio-Visual Aids section has its hands full trying to supply the ever-increasing demand for movies. The newly formed Speech Arts department spends its time showing students that the theater is an invaluable part of our heritage. Many students may be inspired into making dramatics their profession. Any student connected with the "Publications" side of activities will tell you how many hours of "free" time are given by our teachers to give us the memories of our high school years. Eyes, ears, memories; an integral part of our Coyote lives!

AN EARFUL of mirth is what you'll get if you fool around with these happy-go-lucky Speech Arts teachers. Looking glum for once in their lives are Messers C. B. Shepard, R. L. Olson, and Willard Jacquot! Memories take a lot of hard work assert these Publications "profs"

No little amount of time, trouble and worry go into each edition of the Journal and Phoenician. Stanley "Scoop" Shores, directs the paper; Ronald "Ron" Miller oversees advertising for both; and Scott "Chief" Nelson has many more than his share of headaches with the annual

Howdy, Santa!

MERRY CHRISTMAS seemed right at hand the morning English teachers reported for work to find individual packages of delicious fruit cake awaiting them in the English Office. Just as tasty, too, were the verses that accompanied each package. Old St. Clair

June Roof, Guy Foster, Helen Stewart. Standing: Robert Frazier, Beth Yarborough, Mila Bray, Carol Downs.

Appreciation's The Word!

Even the student who says English is his hardest subject admits its value in everyday life. Those who declare grammar bemusing and literature a bore are looking for the easy way; and there really isn't one! Teachers feel well paid, too, when students can respond

Appreciation — that's the keyword in our Art Department! Students can reap rich rewards in the art courses once they have learned to understand and evaluate artistic values. They have numerous mediums of expression too — ceramics, oils, photography, water color

First Step To Beauty—Health

GOOD HEALTH is the first step towards beauty. The staff in our Health Center and the instructors of the practical nursing course never let this thought fade from the minds of their students. Cosmetology and practical nursing are vocational subjects offered to adults and students alike. Mr. J. D. Kendall, general Co-ordinator, is the head of program.

FOR BEAUTY and Health! Instructors in practical nursing are, standing, Mrs Shirley Mannion, and Miss Eula Welker. Seated are Mr. John Kendall, Miss Mary Ruth Ubbink, Mrs. Ruth Bok, and Mrs. Floretta Awe.

THE 4 YEAR OLD

HOME MAKERS with both practice and theory well mixed are these teachers. UPPER: Trying out some of the toys used in Play School classes are Anna Lou Yancy, Jessie Hall, Dorothea Wyman, Inez King, and Gladys Funk. BELLOW: Comparing notes on homemaking projects are Katherine Arnold, Edna Tarleton, Janet Daou, Jane

Hamlin, and Cherry Ferrall. These well trained teachers have given prominence to the courses dealing with the family. A happy life is far more important than any other thing that might come from schooling. Students appreciate the value of budgets and planning for the future . . . and appreciate the meaning of "happy home."

A Happy Home Is Important

Pledged To Scientific Truth

Foremost among men working for the nation's progress are our scientists. Yes, they invent fearsome weapons of destruction, necessary to guard us against predators. But science is dedicated rather to life and the living. There is an abundance of good things for every human being. Science hopes some day to bring that blessing to the world's underprivileged as well as to the more fortunate.

Our Place In The Sun depends largely upon the men of science. We are on the threshold of great things. Solar power is just one of the many natural gifts awaiting our action. Health, longevity, speed and convenience of travel, and new wonders of food and clothing are some of the blessings ahead. Science teachers such as ours are doing their part to bring the bright future nearer to our understanding.

Safety First!

SAFETY comes first with these Driver Education teachers. They are Al Hoeffel, William Saunders, James Winningham, and Dave Medigovich.

Mathematically, your odds against having a serious automobile accident are being strengthened each day by the teachers in Driver Education. Courtesy, fundamentals of safe driving, and obedience to traffic regulations are high on the list of what must be learned. Carefully trained young drivers may yet show us the way to sane and safe highway performance.

There's nothing rougher than a complex problem you just can't solve . . . especially if the homework is due at 8:25 a.m.! However, there is hope for the student who refuses to admit defeat and will put in the time and effort to justify his teacher's promise: If you do your best, you'll really learn! Ready to offer the best, too, are our mathematics teachers.

MATHEMATICS teachers are interested in just about any problem! Here they are in the Library checking on various projects that should prove valuable to their students. FROM LEFT: seated: Kendal Haynie, Bessie Brecker-baumer, Virgil Marshall, Elaine Worthington, Harry Phillips, Martin Sincoff. STANDING: Allen Bryan, Alice Pope, James Elder, Gladys Hoelzle, Kenneth Beals, Kathryn Munson. Einstein's theory? Simple for these people!

Good Books Are Real Friends

AMERICAN ideals get strong support from the Library staff. Here Mrs. Carr and Delores Swart put finishing touches on a display featuring the United States as a symbol of hope to all peoples of the world. Attractive decorations at Christmas and Easter make the Library an added place of interest. Weekly displays of hobby items are shown, also, in a special glass case. With all this, and books too, the library is generally very crowded

COOKS Vernon Matherly and Joel Von Blomberg are ready to laugh at anything Cafeteria Mgr. Bernice Kennedy might say about this picture, such as "crummy", "well bread", or "keep 'em roll-ing." It's all in fun, we mean fun!

We're Always Ready To Eat

Statistics can be interesting. Such as how many tons of potatoes did we consume at the Cafeteria during the school year . . . or how many gallons of meat gravy, dozens of pies, quarts of milk, pounds of pickles? One thing is certain, if the statisticians were to lay the Cafeteria's satisfied customers end to end they would reach . . . for another (burp) helping! Everybody agrees that for quality of food, taste, and economy our Cafeteria is supreme

What few remember is that Cafeteria Manager Kennedy has one of the most difficult jobs on campus. Talk about a sideshow juggler! She must match quantity and quality with our ability to pay against the ever-increasing problem of rising prices, availability of foods and maintenance costs. But the thoughtful planning pays off and we are still the winners. Our thanks to genial Mrs. Kennedy and her efficient staff, all luncheon experts supreme!

SWEETS TO THE SWEET! Cafeteria ladies enjoy their just desserts after bustling about to feed the rest of us
SEATED: Alice Clark Hull, Helen Kennedy, Loreta Stanley, Jane Porter, Agnes Anderson, Margaret Kimmel,

Lorena Lawrence, Mabel Kronke, Evelyn Muok, George Perez, and Edna March. STANDING: Kay Evans, Celia Patzer, Heda Rudnick, Florence Tatro, Edith Silverstone, Florence O'Dell, Daisy Smith, and Cara Krieger

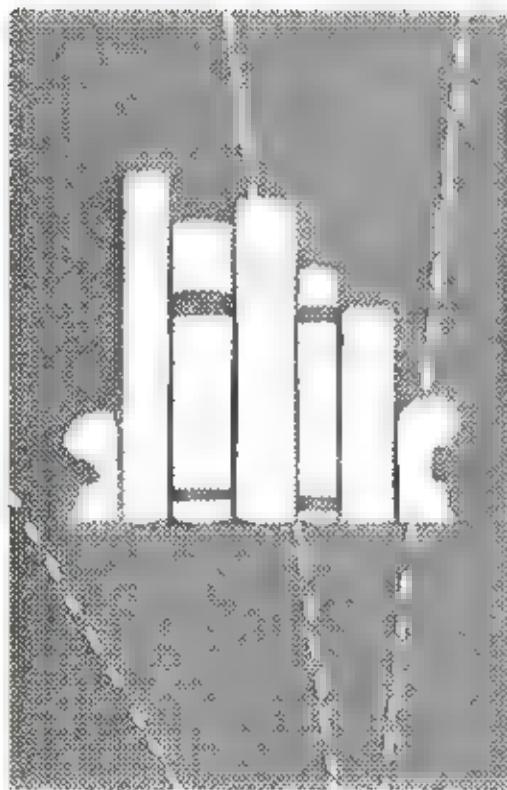

HUNGRY COYOTES soak up the sun as they get nourishment to carry them through the rest of the day

Quad Squad

A pleasant place to eat lunch — that is the "Quad." The green grass and well kept trees afford a good place to sit with your friends and chat about the latest in school happenings while munching on that good sandwich or drinking a cool bottle of pop. The only thing is, if you want a desirable place to sit, you'll have to hurry because the "Quad" fills up fast at noon time. Somehow the lunch hour never seems long enough and it is even more noticeable when you eat in the pleasant "Quad."

In the laboratories are born ideas that can mean a brighter future for all.
Potentials of solar power especially appeal to atomic-minded Phoenicians.

SCHOOL WORK

MAN FROM MARS? Ralph Schnidewind may look like a man from Mars in the outfit he's wearing, but in reality he's hard at work in the welding shop. Welding is just one of the many different occupations taught and practiced in Phoenix Union's vast trades and industry department. The department under the guidance of Mr. Harry Crockett has made great strides in the last few years helping students learn and work at activities which will be their livelihood in the future. The combination of the facilities of Phoenix Technical School and Phoenix Union made these great changes and remarkable progress possible.

Ssssp! Quiet, Men At Work

Tamplin lower the top on one of the autos in the automobile shop. Machine shop, aircraft, and auto work are only three of many trades offered by Phoenix Union's Trades and Industries Department. Boys enjoy work here!

Masters Of Their Trades

THE JACK-OF-ALL-TRADES is fast becoming a thing of the past. The increasing demands of industry are steadily requiring schools to prepare skilled craftsmen in specialized fields. Student workmen are first taught the fundamentals and then gradually progress throughout the advanced phases in certain fields of activity. With practice and expert training, our students will be able to leave high school and go out and snag jobs of their choice. Their ability won many state fair prizes.

Preparation For Life

WEATHERVANES! Could be, but even Anderson and Gibson haven't yet made up their minds about what they're making. The two boys are working on projects in sheet metal shop

ASIDE FROM preparing students to go out and earn their place in the sun, Phoenix Union's Trades and Industries Department also teaches students to be general fix-it men around the house. Here under the guidance of expert instructors, students can learn how to keep their wives happy by making sure the house is in working order as well as by bringing in the paychecks. With a wide variety of courses to choose from—auto mechanics, carpentry, metal work, electronics, radio, welding, body and fender work, and printing—students are well-versed in industrial arts.

AIR AGE PROBLEMS! The air age has meant speed and progress for many, but Robinson, left, and Hall, right, have problems as a result. The complicated aircraft power-plants look like they need some work done on them. Perhaps the fellows' ROTC training will be of help to them. Ability to repair is as important as ability to make things

HOT WIRES—Terry Ryan makes voltage and current checks on his AC power supply. The job requires precise measurements with very little tolerance allowed. This shop-theory course is a study of basic radio-electronics.

Possibilities Plus For Future

STILL ONLY in its infant stage is the science of radio and electronics. Possibilities plus are offered for enthusiastic young engineers to-be in this ever-expanding field. Radar, loran, and sonar are only a few of the numerous branches electronics. Basic Theory and experience in both television and radio are studied in these shops. With the appearance here of such plants as Motorola, General Electric, and U.S. Semiconductor Corporation there will be a great demand for men with know-how, acquired only by great interest and diligent study.

Tomorrow's Einstiens

WHAT'S THAT? Peering into the fascinating and surprising world of bacteria and other interesting microscopic forms is Jim Ritchie. Jim seems completely absorbed, but interested and intelligent students are a common sight in the halls and rooms of the Science Building

PHOENIX UNION is making its contribution to America's drive for top, trained scientists. The high school's Science Department offers courses in biology, chemistry, physics, aeronautics, general science, industrial science, physiology, and others. Students at Phoenix Union however, are especially fortunate since they are in the very center of developments in the science of solar energy. Well-trained teachers and well-equipped laboratories are an invaluable aid to the learning process

the clicks are coming from her or some trick gadget. Geiger counter was part of the Atoms for Peace assembly

SUNNY SMILES won't operate this solar furnace, but these annual staffers are willing to try. Admiring the solar furnace are standing: Donna Moore, Stanley Ong, Frances Willis, Lyola Yee, Tom Keating, and Carol Burdsal. Kneeling is Larry Jackson; Sue Utter sees image. Students decided furnace may be hotter than Valley of Sun!

A Sunny Place – For Progress

The solar furnace at ASC seems like a good place to have your face stretched as shown in the picture. Actually, though, its importance is a hundred times greater to our national welfare. Arizona State is using the furnace in connection with the United States Navy to measure thermal diffusivity of metals and ceramics above 2,000 degrees Centigrade.

Where else but in the Valley of the Sun should this solar furnace, one of the three largest in the United States, be located? It has brought much prestige to ASC, and it also contributed to the growth of the Phoenician. Our place in the sun must be decided upon immediately. With the advance of science at breakneck speed, we must meet its demands

MMM BOY! It smells good, looks good, and tastes good, too! Inspecting the delicacies in the Homemaking Department are clockwise: Shirley Frost, Janice Sanford, Janet Jones, Molly Frances, Marge Fisher, Mrs. McIlwain

Learning To Boil Water

LOOKS GOOD enough to eat decide cooking enthusiasts! Our Homemaking department prepares girls and boys for the job of keeping house in later life. Nothing half way about them, no sree! They not only teach you how to use a can opener, but they will show you how to repair it too! Sparkling, modern equipment is the trademark of this department.

They Know Art's Values

LOOKS GOOD! Commercial art student Roy McWhirter puts a finishing touch on his work, while Carl Giebel closely examines his own masterpiece

Coyotes take art because they like it. The more serious artists take commercial art with perhaps a future career in sight. A large majority, however, take ceramics, fashion design, or art photography because they want to learn how to better express themselves in the field of art. Everyone enjoys good art and knows what he likes and dislikes artistically, but it takes a great deal of training and hard work to bring out talent and art appreciation.

CONCENTRATION! Molding and smoothing bowls, figurines, and trays are ceramic students, Faris Spencer and Sandra Rouch. These are only a few of the many things made by ceramics students.

SPELL IT! Mr. Jordan stumps Beverly Peigh with "idiosyncracy", but only for a moment, in this warmup of the Business Ed spelling contest. Other top spellers shown are Barbara Pugh, Doryce Yandell, Ramona Pantoja, Judy

Plant, Juanita Cooper, Donna Lespron, Leni Roth, and Donna Miller. BOOKS ARE FUN, declares Marilyn Turnage in this report to her English 6 class, which enjoyed her vim. Report was on an autobiography by Lincoln Steffens

Three R's . . . Still Popular!

Three R's are still popular with students . . . and teachers, too! If you can spell, speak, and write in a superior manner, you'll get much farther in the world of business than those who ignore the fundamentals. The old fashioned spelling bee is back in favor. Phoenix Union and West High students combined to outspell a team of West-Union parents

Show me a well educated man and I'll show you an avid reader, the wise educator says. Reading goes hand-in-hand with educational progress. Thus, required reading is a part of our English program. Not that it has to be "required" of all students; many read for sheer pleasure. Others get into the reading habit reluctantly but with very happy results

CUANTO? Asks Spanish Class as they use the Spanish they have studied. Buying groceries, Spanish style are: Louise Muir, Marie Tarango, Silvestre Herrera, Bob MacLiam, Carolyn Jones, Tommie Martinez, and James Beutler. Students have to know their groceries or go hungry.

Por Favor, Señorita!

A TOUCH OF THE OLD EAST: Mr. Ellis, World History teacher, and Bobbie Ong prove to the class that the East is not as far off as they thought. Bobbie poses as a typical Chinese student. WORK WORK! WORK! Field Representative from the Social Security Office explains to business class the importance of Social Security.

Demonstrating a large slide rule to algebra class is Moya Wood and Mrs. Worthington. Watching are Mancini, Dempsey, Sanfri, Garrett. Several hundred times larger than normal slide rule, model shortens learning time

Sliderules And Typewriters

The slide rule is the mathematician's third hand. The math students in the picture wonder if this slide rule belonged to a giant. This slide rule of course is big for teaching purposes

Typing and business courses are popular subjects. Many learn to type for college as well as for training for a business course. Upon completing business course a student is prepared for a good career in the business world

Mr. Mason points out the correct way to space a letter to Barbara Rood. Speed and accuracy are two of many things taught in the typing department. Donald Dunkirk learns how to operate the mimeograph machine

WINNERS! Schilting, Sentonial, Wood, Deal, Lauson, Williams, and Stockton admire plaques and horse collar won by first place teams in livestock judging and entomology. The horse collar is presented to the advisor of school which wins sweepstakes trophy in competition

Soaring Into The Future!

FUTURE FARMERS and future aviators are being trained here at Phoenix Union. Students work at the school farm and attend regular classes also to earn their credits under the agricultural program. Under the aviation program, however, students may be either planning a career in aviation or else just looking for an exciting hobby — you can never tell.

Aspiring Lindberghs are taught how to fly, or how to care for their planes, and they also study meteorology. The course is more expensive than most subjects offered by Phoenix Union, but the aeronautics students will tell you it's worth it. They'll tell you there's no greater feeling than taking that plane for a flight into the sun! They know solar energy!

PREPARE FOR FLIGHT! Walker, Ashcraft, and Morris give the plane a final checkup before taking it up for a spin around Phoenix. Care of the planes, however, is just one phase of training in the aviation course.

STUDENT HEALTH COMMITTEE—Row 1: G. Pena, H. Fung, Cook, Rael. Row 2: Belka, Henry, Maquire,

Peterson, Ong, Wong, Adair. Row 3: Adams, Speicher, Loera, Lopez, Mrs. Bunker, Abril, D. Fung, and B. Fung

Health Is Their Business

The bright and shining faces of the Student Health Committee radiate good health to all of us. The Student Health Committee works hard all year to keep us all well and happy. All in the line of duty, they sponsor drives for better eating habits, and better safety habits.

Nursing is a rewarding career for almost any girl who likes to help people. Practical nursing is the only type studied at PUHS. In this field, student nurses study basic and advanced nursing. When they graduate, many jobs and vital and interesting careers await them.

CANDLELIGHT services are just part of the ceremony as Whitlock, Walden, Stone, Sagan, Scott, Rivera, Person, and Neye graduate from school of Practical Nursing at Phoenix Union interpreting Spanish newspapers. Lower left, a student in the public speaking class keeps an audience interested in her talk. Lower right, business machines get going over in night school classes. Cash registers are studied

Searchers For Knowledge

NOT MUCH publicity or credit is given to a wonderful job performed by the Phoenix Union High School evening classes. Many immigrants have taken their first step toward naturalization in English courses offered for this purpose. Adults who want to earn their high school diploma are given every opportunity to do so. The courses offered are varied. There are several major departments. The Trades and Industries Department teaches many skills in various fields. Agriculture, so vital to Arizona, is an up-and-coming department.

WATCH CLOSELY! Hair stylist Ralph Juarez uses Checuras as a model to demonstrate the newest hair fashion. Martin, Worth, Henson, Frazee, Klingensmith, Merrill, Leggett, and McClain look on. Cosmetology is only one of the many vocational fields students may study

They Profit From Practice

COSMETOLOGY, one of the trade courses offered at Phoenix Union, is the study of hairdressing, manicuring, and ways to make women more lovely. The course lasts 18 months

QUIET PLEASE! Improving their reading skill under Mr Higgenbotham's guidance are, seated, McGinnis, Marquez, Harwood, Schoenheider, Fung, O'leile, Williams,

PUPILS in the reading center have demonstrated that nearly anyone can improve his reading ability. Some pupils in the course have doubled reading speed; others have improved

Gelvin, and Hodge. Standing is Stewart. Speed and understanding in reading is increased by students who study in the reading center. A variety of books is available

We Pay Respect To Our Flag

FLAG RAISING—It's traditional and proper that we honor our country's flag by standing at attention while the Color Guard is raising the Stars and Stripes. The Color Guard is escorted by the Drill Team which presents arms.

The sharpness and precision of the Drill Team and Color Guard usually draws a great deal of attention from the students and faculty alike. Flagraising is held at 8 a.m. sharp each Wednesday at Phoenix Union High School.

Machine-Like Precision Here!

Backbone of Phoenix Union's Battalion is its staff officers. These men inject the spirit of co-operation in our companies, building up an incomparable battalion of polished veterans

DRILL TEAM—Practice in co-ordination accounts for the incisiveness of our Phoenix Union Battalion Drill Team.

Commanded by Cadet First Lieutenant Mosher, the Drill Team is viewed by the Phoenix Union faculty and students.

FEDERAL INSPECTION—Ability that counts. Achievement of each school inspection is determined and judged by the inspection officers of the United States Sixth Army Area. The inspection party for 1957 was headed by Colonel Gaynor Hathaway. American Legion Awards were presented to members of the ROTC units for outstanding performance. Meritorious Service Awards were presented others for all-round accomplishment and grades.

Competition Keynotes ROTC

ALL THIS TRAINING shows up at Military Night, when Phoenix High Schools compete for the best battalion. In this competition at that time, platoon drill, squad drill, tent pitching, exhibition drill, and the military sweepstakes races are judged. Drill Team competition, in which each school tries to outdrill others, is toughest

A miracle occurred . . . the dread enemy Polio fled before Science's new weapons. We are proud to be the first high school in the United States to mass inoculate with the Salk vaccine.

OUR CLASSES

SCHOLARS in search of a scholarship are these diligent seniors under direction of their adviser, Dr. Zeitlin: Loui, Battles, Martin, Yee, and Sartoris. Only students wise enough to go after the thousands of dollars worth of awards available can expect to reap these rich dividends. Many fine scholarships go unclaimed every year.

The Future Looks Bright

On the threshold of their senior year, juniors wonder what to expect next. What will it be like to be "top man on campus"? Will I really be glad to be a senior? After all, it will be my last year, and then it'll all be over. Questions and perplexed minds keep the junior dubious and rather skeptical about this business of being a senior. They will find out, though, that even with the added responsibility and dignity, comes more fun and friends. The Class of '58 has what it takes to be the kind of seniors of whom Phoenix Union will long be proud and citizens our country needs.

Looks Ahead

SOPH officers keep up to date! Pictured are Anna Trigiano, Sue Garrett, Pete Zorbas, and Theresa Torres

Defying the adage that sophomores get lost in the shuffle, the Class of '59 proved they were as capable as the older, more experienced in expressing school spirit. They met their responsibilities readily. But sophs admit they recall that freshman year with mixed feelings!

The underclassmen were capably led by President Pete Zorbas, Vice President Theresa Torres, Secretary Anna Trigiano, and Treasurer Sue Garrett. Although not yet promoted to the ranks of grown-ups, the juniors and seniors of tomorrow hold high hopes for the future.

Yea, Coyotes, Yea, Phoenix Union

Pert, Perky, Pretty . . .

BUSY, BUSY, BUSY was the general atmosphere around this year's sophomore class. Between cupcake sales and car washes, the girls in the council found time for a sophomore girl's tea and also co-sponsored the annual Sweethearts' Ball. Theme for this year's February event was "Pink Illusion." These hard working underclassmen proved themselves an asset to the Girls' League program. With a lot of hard work and experience behind them, next year's Junior Council should have a very successful school year in 1957-58.

SAY IT WITH MUSIC! Fascinated by the songs of the A Cappella sextet are these pretty lasses who attended the Sophomore Council tea. Only a small portion of the council's meetings are spent for entertainment purposes, however, the girls also carry on a full round of activities of benefit to the students of Phoenix Union High School.

In The Beginning We're Frosh

At the beginning of the school year the freshmen stood on the threshold of four years of accomplishment, fun, and hard work. Now with one of the years already behind them, the inexperience and shyness typical of freshmen has been replaced by confidence and a will to carry on all of the traditions and high standards observed and honored at Phoenix Union

The philosophers say that once you really "mature" you stop growing . . . hence start to disintegrate; Freshmen, happy in the knowledge that they are still young and green . . . and fresh . . . have plenty to learn. Their accomplishments this year give them just cause to hold their heads high. They have every right to be proud they belong to the Class of 1960

With Sore Arms, Proud Hearts

That evil old fiend, Polio, all but gave up the fight when he saw thousands of students at PUHS line up for their anti-polio shots this year. First to initiate the Salk treatment for all students, Phoenix Union won wide recognition

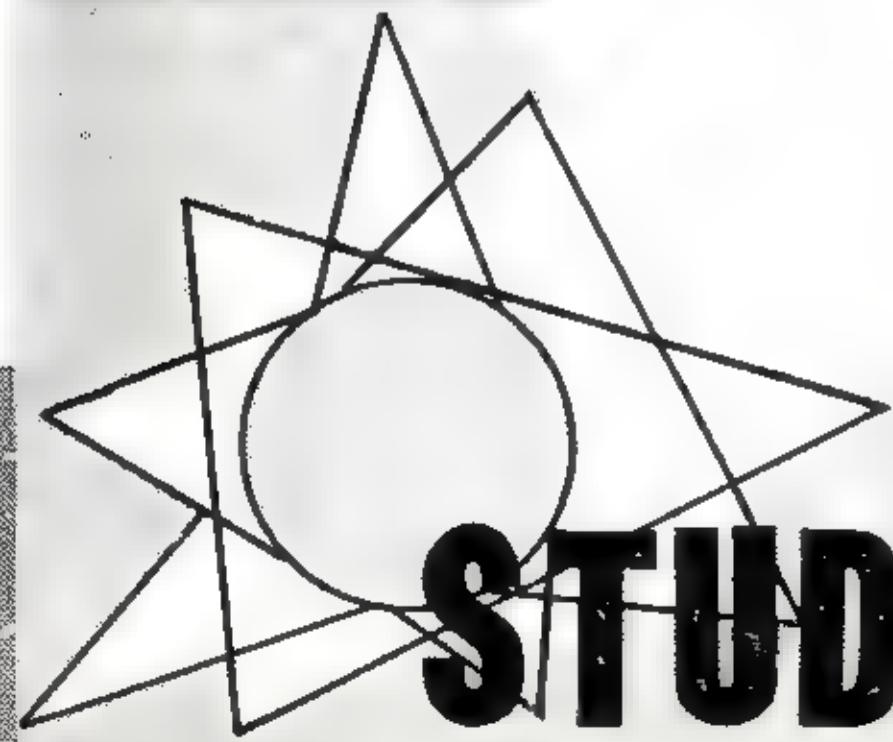

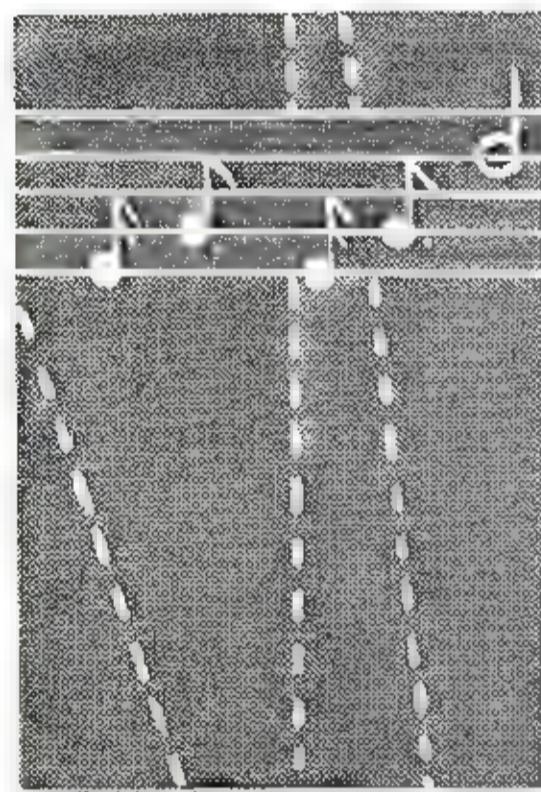

Our Valley of the Sun has long been famous for its healthy climate. Now we can also boast of super-healthy students who are ready and willing to meet the challenge with science's best weapons. We had sore arms — so what!

Get The Point?

Many were the moans and groans when Phoenix Union lined up its students for free Salk shots. We were full of pride that our school was first to undertake such a program, but we were a bit scared, too, of that big needle! You'll recognize some of these students above: Gideon, Gager, Hamby, Gager, Lowe, Valencia, Olea, Yee (at top), and Upton, Rosas, Stevenson, and Rushing.

There are plenty of vitamins in our sunshine . . . and a zest for living keynotes all of our school fun — the dances, games, rallies, and assemblies. We're full of pep and we know it!

STUDENT LIFE

WHICH ONE NEXT? Choosing yells in which to lead student body are cheerleaders Porter, Unangst, and Leverton. The school yells and cheers this year were varied, interesting, most important of all, LOUD

Unlimited Energy and Enthusiasm

PEP MERCHANTS! It took cheering and go-power added to girls' beauty to make sure that each sports event was

Armida Guaderrama, and Carolyn Hodges pose in the second row. Third row is composed of Sandy Hays, Carolyn Soza, Margie Angulo, and Estelle Harwood

INSTEAD OF THE THREE R's, it's the three P's for the cheerleaders and the pom-pom girls. Pep, precision, and practice are the bywords for these two active groups. The pep is always attested to by the bounce and spirit of the girls and boys. Precision is what makes their routines, whether a dance or a cheer, appealing to the eye and ear. Practice is a daily affair. The cheerleaders accomplished their purpose this year of improving school spirit and encouraging more and louder yelling. The pom-pom girls performed at the State Fair and in the rodeo parade in addition to the sports events. We point with pride to both groups, for they are doing their best for Phoenix Union. Their sponsor is Miss Billings

Enjoying Life To The Fullest

AN AFTERNOON football game afforded this opportunity for Phoenix Union's Marching Band to strut their stuff to a visiting audience. Under the direction of Harvey Zorn, the band provides the pep and zip that keeps the crowd in a mood to cheer and helps the team play at its best. However, it wasn't only at football games and pep rallies that Phoenix Union students demonstrated that they had school spirit. All year long, in every room, students showed that they were a lively bunch of people, living and enjoying life to the fullest.

COLOR DAY WINNERS! Homeroom winners for Color Day festivities meet in the auditorium to choose the best girl's and boy's costumes. Winners were Carol Lane and Eddie Rimbey. Odd combinations of red and black prevailed.

Pep? We've Plenty Of It!

PEP RALLY! The student body gathers in the stadium for one of many pep assemblies. Here our pom-pom girls dance one of their spirited numbers. The pre-game rallies were a great aid to a increased school spirit.

A TOUCH OF MERRIE ENGLAND: Phoenix Union's Madrigal Singers again demonstrated their popularity by performing for many groups in the Valley of the Sun. Members of the group are Beeman, Rainey, Davis, Kenly, Moreno, Riley, Willy, Cram, Spahr, Johnson, Gililand, Petko, Burrows, Carver and Leedom. PUHS students enjoyed Madrigal singers.

With Song In Our Hearts

AMONG THE BEST: Our A Capella Chorl helped Phoenix Union to earn its place in the sun. The female vocal group performed ably throughout the year in assemblies, concerts, and for selected organizations. Director for group is Miss Hergt

The Madrigal Singers are a fairly new addition to Phoenix Union. An applicant must be able to sing a part by himself. The group sings without accompaniment or a cappella. Madrigal singing originated in England

Music Makers

A CAPPELLA OFFICERS. Roberts, Miss Hergt, sponsor, Wells, Peralta, and Sartoris look over music for a new number

FRESHMAN WARBLERS are first aid for frayed nerves! Choralteens sang for us and refreshed us at an assembly in the spring, when our school problems had us worn out. These girls are the cream of PU's crop of frosh voices. After that assembly any Coyote can tell you that a pink jumper means a fine voice, i.e. a Choralteen! Though freshmen, girls are as mature as seniors!

THE ORATORIO SOCIETY poses for their annual portrait during their Christmas presentation of Handel's

"The Messiah." Directed by Milton K. Rasbury, the 140 voice choir gave, as is customary, excellent performances

Voices Blended In Harmony

EX-GOVERNOR Howard Pyle speaks during the Oratorio's annual Christmas assembly. This year as in those past, our student body has had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Pyle speak

Under the direction of Dr. Milton K. Rasbury, the Oratorio Society wound up another successful year. At Christmas time the 140-voice choir sang Handel's "The Messiah." On Good Friday night, Gounod's "The Redemption" was presented. Performances also included the annual University of Arizona concert in the spring.

The chorus, accompanists, and director worked many hours in class and at night rehearsals. Girls' officers are Leah Menifee, president, Vicki Garner, vice-president; Sharon Houska, secretary; and Linda Speicher, treasurer. Boys' officers are: Larry London, president, Harry Neer, vice-president, Andre Robin, secretary; and Dan Gaddis, treasurer. 1956-57 organists are Gloria Schnebly and Allison Churchman.

REALLY CUTTING it up are these Masque and Gavel members during the Christmas Assembly. A Reindeer that looks more like a horse, a fishing exhibition, and many other novelty acts were featured in 30-minute act

MUSIC HATH CHARMS! The Concert Orchestra is pictured here in readiness for their annual student body assembly. Director Eugene Lombardi and President Judy

Miller led the musical group through one of its most successful years. Regular concerts, guest appearances, and a banquet were a few of the year's highlights

Sweet Music In Our Ears

THIS PAST YEAR, the members of Phoenix Union's Concert Orchestra have worked extra hard to make the 1956-57 school year one that they will long remember. Among their many accomplishments have been the annual spring concert and an assembly in which the members performed a modern version of Little Red Riding Hood entitled "Little Bop Riding Hood."

The orchestra also put in guest appearances, one at Rotary Club dinner and the other at the city library auditorium. On the lighter side, members of the orchestra enjoyed a banquet at the Encanto Park Clubhouse. Officers were Judy Miller, president; Jan Sessions, vice-president; Martha Winslow, secretary; LaRue Nicolay, treasurer; Carol Hamilton, manager.

TRY IT AGAIN! Concert Orchestra director Eugene Lombardi helps officers Miller and Sessions over one of the difficult passages in some newly-arrived music. Mr. Lombardi goes to Central High next year

Snap, Swing, Sparkle!

HIGH NOTES! Director Harvey Zorn, center, gives some advice to Art Leyvas and Carolyn Tucker, members of the Concert Band. The band performances are usually among the highlights of the year for Phoenix Union High School students.

Trained musicians make good music, and Phoenix Union's Concert Band is no exception. Work and experience have made them one of our city's most listened to musical organizations. With their appearances at the military assembly and the State Fair, the band members have devoted most of their spare time to making these performances the best possible. Practice of precision marching also takes up much time, as the band performed for the rodeo and Columbus Day parades. The reward for their hard work came when members enjoyed a most delicious banquet at Encanto Park Clubhouse with the Concert Orchestra.

In The Christmas Spirit . . .

IT MAY NEVER SNOW in Phoenix, but Santa Claus and his reindeer somehow made it to Phoenix Union just in time for the Christmas festivities. He brought laughter and gayety with him for each and every Coyote. In a more serious mood the A Cappella Choir inspired the student body with their beautiful carols and religious music. Christmas assembly put on by Oratorio was the season's highlight.

CHRISTMAS CAPERS. Masque and Gavel added fun to the Christmas season with a special assembly. Extreme left: Judi Walker interviews a fuzzy Santa Claus. Middle: Pat Caldwell and Eddie Rimbey play Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer. Right: Dave Moore and Sharon Hodges reach an interesting point in a pantomime. However, though we had fun, many clubs and organizations also gave time and money to poor families at Christmas.

BRIGHT LIGHTS and Yule fun! Students getting into the Christmas spirit by decorating the Auditorium stage include John Albright, Pat Caldwell, Joe Galas, Pat Overton, Frances Guzman, and LaDonna Bacon

It's Tinsel Time Once More!

What if there was no snow outside, or sleighbells jingle-jangling? We had that same ol' feeling inside us once more . . . the spirit of Christmas! The downtown streets took on that magic glow at night; store windows sparkled with beauty of a special kind; everybody wore broad smiles with added merriment.

Yes, the great day was coming . . . ! Home-room parties gave way this year to charities. A beautiful program in the Auditorium gave us a good start for the Yule holidays. Christmas is a state of mind, not a winter's sport. We sang our carols and went on picnics to the park. Wonderful fun! Who could want more?

Curtain Up – To Curtain Call

STAGECRAFT: Drama production sets are constructed by the stagecraft class. Behind screen Caldwell, and Spohr finish backdrop. Standing are Morris, Halletky, and Dial. Working in foreground are Rimbey, Trexler, Cox, Walker, and London

THE STAGECRAFT CLASS learns the "ins and outs" of theatrical work and have fun while doing it. Many hours of preparation and rehearsal are required before a dramatic production can be produced. Without stagecraft crews, school plays would be drab affairs

"THE NIGHT OF JANUARY 16TH" brought murder drama to the stage of our auditorium. The plot thickened as Linda Jones, Gary Eakler, Robert Keith, and Gay

Hughes appear in courtroom scene. Right: "You're wrong!" shouts Jimmy Mattern as Sharon Hodges sneers back defiantly at her loud and volatile accuser

Judge, witnesses and couple enjoy the simple marriage performed by the preacher Joe Barraza for Bill Cornelius and Charlene Schneider. Witnessed by Candy Becker, Alice Abelt and Pete Zorbas the wedding went nicely.

Promenade

The old time relaxation of the pioneers is remembered once a year at Phoenix Union at the annual Girls Letter Club and Boys Federation Frontier Dance. The old spirit is there, too!

Dressed in the same kind of clothes the pioneers wore to Arizona and Phoenix, the students not only have the same kind of fun but they include their own Sadie Hawkins event

Midnight Magic

Stardust Fantasy . . . mysterious blue and silver shadows floating above . . . heavenly music with a modern beat . . . beautiful girls and handsome boys. Those are our memories of this year's Midnight and Roses Ball. Decorations were by class councils and any Boys' Federation help available. Music was by Ray Andrade's Orchestra. Marlene Peirce was student chairman. The dance was a real success.

HANGING modernistic signs in fantastic designs are Charlotte Branner, Marlene Peirce, and Rudy Garcia.

THEY COULD'VE DANCED all night . . . at the romantic, beautiful Midnight and Roses Ball. Enjoyment lights the faces of these couples as every wonderful moment seemed like a star studded fantasy of memorable, mysterious magic.

PRETTY, PERKY, Alice Abelt says the happiest moment was when all those big football players gave her the honor of being their own football queen

They Kept Our Spirits High

right: Guaderrama, Hayes, Mark, Rood, Hodges, Stull, Houch, Harwood, Angulo, and Soza. Girls did fine job.

FARMERS' CHOICE Candidates for Future Farmer Sweetheart were Pat Stevenson, Lin McBride, Janet Alford, Pat Caldwell, and LaDonna Bacon. Results of the sweetheart contest were announced at the annual FFA Banquet.

Farmers Choose A Sweety

Heigh Ho, the Merry O, the farmer takes sweetheart! Chances are the farmer in the dell never saw such a bevy of beauties like those who competed for top honors in the annual Future Farmers of America Sweetheart Contest. It certainly was no easy task to select the outstanding beauty from the finalists.

Following the annual FFA Banquet was the big news: Janet Alford was the new Sweetheart, to succeed Barbara Lauson, 1956 queen. Among other duties, Janet was to represent the chapter at two state field days. One field day was held at the PUHS Farm where a barbecue and many games highlighted the day.

WINNER! Queen Janet is crowned by Willie Deal, FFA secretary, following announcement of the contest results. The only chapter in Phoenix Area, Future Farmers of America have their own farm campus on Southern Avenue.

SPUNKY SOPHS made tracks for the Tucson football rally. Sporting their patriotic derbys are Cardwell, Caraveo, Phillips, Phelps, Olson, (who is a traitorous senior), Wright, Torres, De Marlieux, Massey, Doll, Garrett, Wagner, Cissell, and Lance. No one can deny that these peppy underclassmen over rate the juniors and seniors in enthusiasm for their team!

Nothing Apathetic About Them

The Army Gets A Night Out!

The combined ROTC units of the Phoenix Union High Schools held their Annual Military Ball with all its splendor in the Boys' Gym in February. This formal affair is one of the biggest projects of the combined units. The highlight of the evening was the selection of the regimental queen. Each school selected one candidate to compete for this title. Phoenix Union's Queen was pretty Cathy Dolphin.

HOSTS at the Military Ball were Cadet Lt. Col. Delaney Westbrook and Phoenix Union's ROTC queen, Cathy Dolphin, honorary lieutenant colonel. The annual affair was held this year in Phoenix Union's Boy's Gymnasium.

Military Ball. The responsibilities for different phases of the planning are given to each school individually.

We find our Place in the Sun by learning to work with others. Service, co-operation, enthusiasm — all these help us to develop into a better person.

ORGANIZATIONS

We Whistle And Work!

EDITOR - IN - CHIEF Tommy Keating glances from his work as photographer catches a smile.

THE 1957 PHOENICIAN was given a good start to success in its baby stages by capable Editor-in-Chief Tommy Keating, and the combined efforts of the staff and annual sponsor Scott Nelson. Many long hours and school holidays were spent in the staff's work room and dark room to turn out this annual. They hope their efforts have been a success. This year editor had a real chance to prove himself when Chief Nelson suddenly was taken ill.

LOOK WHAT he's doing to my pictures, cries Dolphin as Rimbey pours acid in the pan with innocent bystanders

PROUD of the past All-American Phoenicians are staff members Specht, Yee, Houseman, Bell, Utter, Lee, Moore, Willis, Shankland, Howell, Jackson, Fung, Burdsal, and

Schwinn. The Phoenician, under the guidance of Chief Nelson, has consistently been named one of the nation's best high school yearbooks, rating All-American

We Try For The Best!

The clanging of typewriters, the banging of the dark room door, people dashing around campus gathering information, and the clicking and flashing of cameras resulted in one thing — another candidate for all-American annual rating. The annual staff knows that they must work hard to keep up the reputation Phoenix Union annuals have.

There are many divisions of the annual calling for students who are specialized in these fields. The staff comprises students from the music department, sports department, homemaking, and many others. This gives life to the writing and makes the annual a success with you, the reader.

BURNING THE CANDLE 'til the wee hours is what business manager, Dan Bertoni, sometimes does to keep straight accounts.

All Business

IT TAKES money to publish newspapers and yearbooks . . . lots of money. Since not all of it can come from students, the class in Journal Advertising takes over the job, salesmen cover the town, and in flows the ad revenue! ABOVE the Journal Ads class in action. Lower left is Perry Gooch, Journal business manager and (right) Journal salesmen Saban and Tang do rushing business with single copies of Coyote Journal. All advertisements for both publications, the Journal and the Annual, are capably supervised by Mr. Ronald Miller. Advertising students know that their efforts are vital if the publications are to make a profit. Advertising is interesting!

Headlines . . . Deadlines!

BOSSES: Gloria Valencia and Mary Wood, Journal editors, pause to say "cheese". Gloria headed the paper first semester; Mary succeeded her at mid year as the editor-in-chief

Deadline! Rush, get that story in! Read proofs, check layouts, sell papers! These are just a few of the familiar terms the Journal staffers frequently hear. Objective of the Journal this year was presenting things in a different way. New features included an advice to the lovelorn column, written and originated by imaginative Mary Wood and Marilyn Baker

JOURNAL STAFF members get up steam. Seated are Marian Wong, Roberta Ong, Margaret Bandy, Mary

Hot rod pictures, baby pictures of student leaders, and a freshman column ably written by Linda Chiarson drew attention of subscribers. Also used for the first time was the system of having a new editor each semester. A special new service introduced this year was a free classified ad department that proved itself to be humorous as well as practical.

Key To Good Times – Work

Write, scribble, and scrawl. These people can do all this when it comes time to get the Coyote Journal and Phoenician to eager students who look forward to the publication date. Hard work is the way these students responded to the honor of being allowed to join Quill and Scroll. Many are seniors and will graduate, but the juniors will carry on club by stepping into key spots on the annual and paper staff

"High" ideals are the trademarks of these high flying students. No low grades for them! Plans for the future include scholarships, and years of college for these top students. Musical, athletic, and artistic ability also mark these citizens, as proven at their parties

Parnassus is an honorary club for students who have six or less grade points. Open to freshman second semester, upper classmen may join any semester their grades are high enough. Sponsored by Miss Mila Bray, the club has excursions to different places. The members also present an assembly each year

The use of modern machinery, new methods of harvesting all are included. Chapter Sweetheart of this group of boys is Janet Alford. The FFA held their annual banquet on December 12

What does it take to keep a husband? Good housewives and good cooks, of course. This is the aim that the Future Homemakers of America have in mind. Members were represented at the district and state meetings this year. A full schedule of services, sales and parties for 1956-57 was planned and carried out. Mrs. Janet Hamblin is faculty sponsor.

Public Praise Is Well Earned

Football patrons will recognize the smiling faces of Stadium Clubbers since their owners are students who usher at all the home games. They spend long hours trudging up and down bleacher stairs, showing people where to sit. When there are mixups, the Stadium Club maintain their friendly manner. In fact their smiles have banished many a perplexed frown.

AUDITORIUM CLUB includes, Top Row: Lee, Romero, Monarch, Hestand, Bair, Crain, Smith, Winslow, Adels, McCaughey, Enochs, Brown, Baty, Barnes, Earsey. Equally important are the Auditorium Club girls who usher at all events whether or not school-sponsored. Their smiling, efficient service wins high praise from Phoenicians and out-of-state visitors who attend programs. Social highlight of the year is the annual banquet at Arizona Manor Hotel. Officers were headed by Cathy Dolphin. Miss Maxey is the adviser.

Friendship—The Coyote Motto

Phoenix Union is traditionally a friendly school. The nucleus of its amiable atmosphere is a large and popular group whose aim is to make all newcomers feel welcome and oldtimers be at home on this huge campus

Members of the Friendship Club did their job well this year as in the past, and in addition helped a needy family at Christmas besides having a picnic for their own enjoyment. The group was ably led by Judy Chapman

BUSY PACKING can goods for the Thanksgiving family adopted by GAA are Theresa Navarro and Sue Utter. This is just one of the many worthy activities Friendship Club undertakes.

SOS CLUB—Seated, Stull, Spencer, A ford, Mahaffey, Koy, Pearce Standing: Kidwell, Watson, Zanin, Freeman, Rogers, Roth, Mabry, and Clark

SOS! SOS! SOS! SOS! SOS!

SOS stands for help, but in this case it is help for other people and not for the one giving the signal. It is the club's responsibility to keep the Social Hall in good order and to help out any club that holds a meeting or party there. In addition, it sponsors the Christmas Tea which is a get together for our faculty. The tea is one of the high spots in the teacher's memories, and the girls really enjoy the hard work of getting the tea organized. Any time you need help, flash a quick signal for SOS and members will be right there, ready, willing, and able.

SOS CLUB—Seated: Wingfield, Pederson, Schade, Martin, Bacon, Durbin, Barksdale, Stowe, Cardwell Standing: Fung, Chapman, Meza, Avery, Roher, Harris, Grimm, Donnally, and Fulton.

SPEEDY TAILBACK Lige Franklin (19) closes in for the kill during hard fought game against Tucson, Badgers downed Pack, 26-17. The Coyotes lost, although they led the Badgers at halftime. The game was a seesaw affair

Defeated But Undaunted!

Not champions but good sports seemed to be the theme of Coach Sam Winningham's 1956 Varsity Grid team. Finishing their worst campaign in 10 years with a 2-8-0 record, the Pack still stoutly fought every game from start to finish. The Coyotes made their best showing of year against Mesa and West Phoenix

In the opener, the Coyotes lost to St. Mary's 13-12. Touchdowns were made by All Stater Delbert Hodge who blasted through from the one, after a personal foul against St. Mary's moved the ball from the seven yard line. The other was made by junior guard John Miller who recovered fumbled ball in the end zone.

Rebels Surrender To Pack

Sparked by the fine defensive play of James Sneed, Bob Martin and Floyd Smith, the Coyotes insured a 7-6 victory over South Mountain Rebels. Hodge, behind the blocking of Lee Warren and Jim Geiger, galloped 46 yards to score. James Sneed sent a looping placement high over the goal for the victory margin. Don Coyote fell to Yuma 19-6 in a more or less aerial game. The Coyotes gained 66 yards rushing and 90 yards passing to Yuma's 240 yards rushing and 5 yards passing. Again Hodge blasted over from the one for the lone Coyote marker.

Playing host to the Cavers from San Diego, the Coyotes tumbled 33-6. Fullback Lee Warren on the first play from scrimmage scooted for 56 yards before being pulled down from behind. Then Warren scored on a quick hand-off from quarterback Gary La Valley. Floyd Smith and Bob Lairson were in on almost every tackle.

Next, in California, the Santa Barbara Dons dropped the Pack 24-0 in an earth-shaking struggle. Injured in the quake were defensive halfback Raymond Bell, Hodge and Smith.

Badgers, Mesa Taste Revenge!

Although leading at halftime the Coyotes lost a hard fought game to the aggressive Tucson Badgers 26-17. Hodge accounted for both Coyote touchdowns. Joe Weaver, Smith and Lige Franklin lead the Red and Black in defensive play.

Again tragedy struck the battered Pack Mesa's Rabbits and the Thunderbirds from West defeated the once mighty Don Coyote-Mesa 28-19 and West 25-13. The Pack hustled harder in these two contests than in any previous game, but victory continued to elude the battered locals.

Amphitheater, using an ineligible player against the Coyotes, had to forfeit. This went into the record as the last Coyote victory of the year

The rampaging Horses from North Phoenix got a race for life when they entered Montgomery Stadium for the annual Coyote Turkey

Day game. North defeated the Pack 39-26, but before the final gun banged out conclusion to an otherwise sad season for Don Coyote, everybody from waterboy to the most rabid Mustang fan atop the stadium knew there'd been a battle royal. Markers were made by seniors Hodge, Smith, George Whitfield and Dick Moore.

Steve Crookston (32) Coach Long, and Delbert Hodge (31) beam big smiles as they present the City Trophy to happy student body president, Kent Olson

THAT MAN AGAIN, ole "Stretch" Holmes lets go for 2 of his 43 record breaking points against Cameback.

Real thrill of the season came when the Coyotes topped the state record of 51 consecutive wins set by Tucson High. Also broken was the city scoring record of 40 points by Allen "Stretch" Holmes in a series of spectacular jump shots. Coyotes did very well

High as Ron Phiffer (32) tries to stop him. Other Spartan player is Bill Schmul (13). Pack dropped Spartans 66-49.

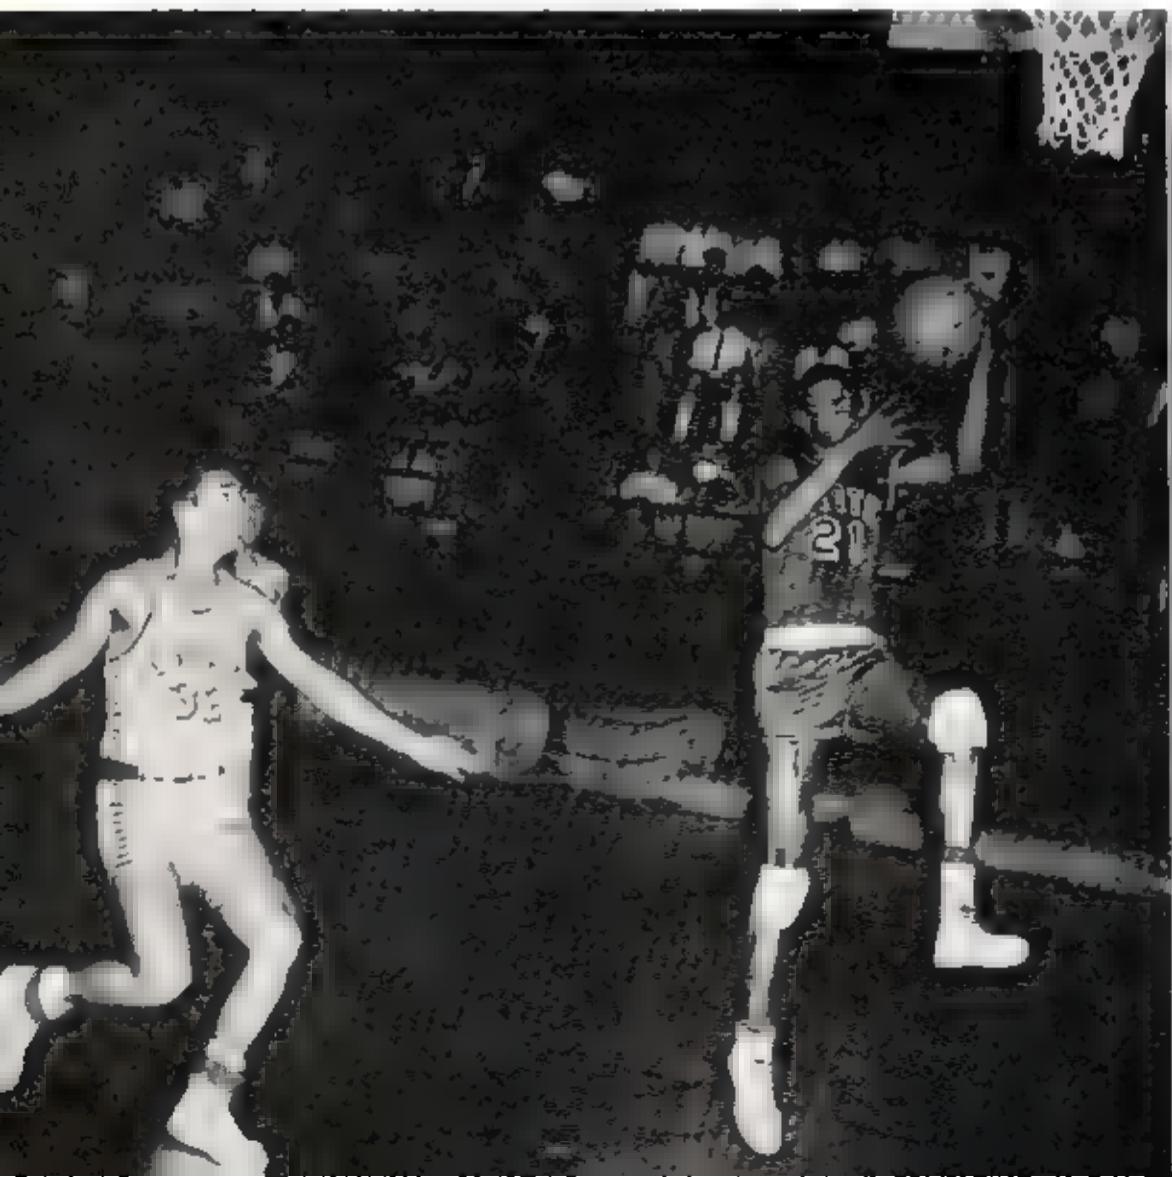

The Coyotes' closest game was during the Christmas tournament when they took on West Phoenix at PUHS. But the hustling efforts of Frank Mass and Syd Smith pulled the Coyotes on top 46-43. During a close game played at Yuma the Coyotes won by close score of 69-63.

REJOICING after breaking the city scoring record, Stretch tears down net, was later touted as the best basketball player in Arizona history.

Finishing the season undefeated with a 19 won 0 lost record, the Coyote Pups were as proud as a flock of peacocks under the coaching of Wendell Patterson. The starting five for the Junior Varsity were Willie Barge, Gilbert Padilla, Ronnie Zieball, Richard Minyard and freshman Andrew Stoglin

This Junior Varsity team proved to be the best the Coyotes had produced in over five years. Gilbert Padilla was the No. 1 man in the back court. He scored 37 points in the Pups' downing of Yuma and for his effort he was allowed to dress out with the Varsity. The experience these boys gained will help them to fill the big shoes of the fabulous first team

Baseball Squad Splits Even

Winters for Eastlake Park are lonely quiet ones with a touch of cold. When March comes to Phoenix, Eastlake begins to sparkle, to come alive. Why the sudden change? The Coyote Pack comes home for their spring baseball season.

As the dust rose and the heat mounted with Kent Olson, leading hitter, Dave Neal, top pitcher, Ronnie Schopper, catcher, James Sneed, pitcher, and Dick Moore, outfielder, the hits, runs, errors and outs provided some thrilling action packed games.

JOHN GILLA demonstrates a slight bit of form before a game. Gilla along with Sneed and Neal proved to be the Coyote starting pitchers and ranked high

VIRGIL WARINNER prepares to get his first RBI in Varsity competition against strong North Phoenix. The Coyotes dropped the game to the Mustangs 8 to 1. Warinner was one of the J.V.'s to move up to the Varsity.

The Coyote Pack started fast winning their first three games. Backed by strong arms and heavy hitters, Joe Gora, Gary Russell, and Danny Neer, Phoenix Union batted out a 500 season in wins and losses. The boys worked hard and the experience and memories of this year will long linger in the mind.

Eastlake has reverted once more to the lonely place full of Coyote baseball memories only to prepare itself for next year's hardy Coyote Pack. Next year's team should prove to be one of the best. Most of the team's lettermen will be returning, ready for more action as the Coyotes prepare for the '58 season.

Coyotes Do It Again

ANDREW ALVAREZ goes for 5'6" against West High as some Thunderbird competitors look on. Alvarez went for a height of 6' for the Coyotes this year

Phoenix Union again dominated high school track by claiming the state AA title for the third consecutive year. Pulled leg muscles and sprained ankles edged the Coyotes out of several early season contests, but these failed to stop the determined champions in the state meet at Tucson.

Outstanding for the Coyotes were Delbert Hodge, Ray White, Lige Franklin, and team captain Joe Benites. Mike Barrick, the sophomore whiz, bettered his own mark by posting a 50.4 440-yard dash. Bob Tschilar was second only to the nation's best pole vaulter in the state meet.

LIGE FRANKLIN, Delbert Hodge and Joe Benites finish 1-2-3 in the 100 yard dash against West Phoenix. Franklin's time was 10.3. Lower right shows Mike Rojas heaving the shot against West as Coach "Pug" Marich looks on

Champs 3rd Straight Year

Hard practice and the will to win contributed to the Coyotes' third straight Arizona Track championship. Disregarding first places and concentrating on team efforts, the Coyotes pulled into the championship with only one first place as Del Hodge took first in the 180 yard low hurdles.

New to the Coyotes this year was Coach Glenn Beerline. The track team welcomed him with a Class AA North and state championship. Coach Beerline tried for a place on the American Olympic team in the hop skip and jump and is highly regarded as a top track coach.

TEAM CAPTAIN for the 1957 school year Joe Benites shows a lot of strain as he finishes 120 yard high hurdle event with winning time of 15.7

Othon, Rudy Guzman, and Ray White. White was Phoenix Union's top cross-country trackman as well as the state's best runner, winning first place in every one of the runs.

Smiles In A Winning Year

From last place a year ago to a record-breaking first place this year—that's the record Phoenix Union's cross country team ended up with after many grueling practice periods. Under the guidance of Coach Beerline, the seven man team became city champions. Member Roy White won every one of the two and two-tenths miles runs, thus setting new track records on all but two of state's tracks.

Although in their first year of competitive play, Coach Endres' tennis team was able to win one of its matches and send its best players to the state tennis tournament. Singles and doubles, Alan Wick and Carl Bindhammer, were sent to represent Phoenix Union. With such a good start in this year's activities, loyal Coyotes were looking forward to an even bigger future for tennis during the next year.

ALTHOUGH they dropped their first two games, the varsity wrestling squad finished rest of season unbeaten. They also bagged the State Championship at Tempe. Members of this years' top rated team are from top row: Warinner, Pickens, Portello, Qumonez, McCarty, Woods, Coopland, Bean, J. Tang, Unangst, Jenkins, Gilberto. Row 2: Mondragon, Norman, Adams, Ortega, Huff, Row 4: Coach Winningham, Pearson, Domingues, Toland, Garrison, Tschilar, Ortega, Tanoris, Sanchez, Bush, Young. Bottom Row: Henderson, Barraza, Garcia, Dunlap, Coopland, Burton, Howell, and R. Tang. State champs were Booker, Young, Howell, Garcia, and Pearson.

We Wrestled Fore Dear PU

THE HARD-WORKING varsity golf team finished the season with a dubious record of 5 wins, 12 losses, but they should be given credit for their hard work. Members of the newly formed team are from top: Coach Zorn, Johnson, Cotterman, DeJong, Sewell, Listiak, and Schroeder.

While Ronald Contreras performs on the trampoline, Kenny Griffiths works on the mats. Look closely and you'll find Jerry Stansbury, Danny Hembre, Gene George, Howard Dumont, and Robert Martinez in the shot

Another Meet, Another Win

MAD BULLS! Phoenix Union's Joe Barraza has that "Watch out" look in his eyes as he meets a foe from arch enemy, North Phoenix. This year the wrestling squad came out on top in the Arizona state meet

STRIKE ONE! Calling the strikes against Diane Blanco is Donna Moore. Shirley Glenn is in the catcher's spot. Softball is one of a full-round of activities offered girls in Phoenix Union's physical education department.

Healthy But Fun!

HUNDREDS of busy, healthy girls each day go through the girls gym. Careful planning on the part of capable teachers gains co-operation and create enjoyment for all of the students. Activities vary from dances like "The Man With the Golden Arm" to intramurals and class tournaments in each sport in season. All activities are well planned and accidents are few. The physical education program rounds out most of the girls' class day and gives them a bright perspective on life.

GRACE and muscular control team up in Modern Dancing
The top group shown here were students of Miss Fairfax

Dancers in the lower picture were trained by Mrs. Mitten
The girls enjoy taking part in artistic formations

Modern Dance Club, although young in years, has become one of the largest, most popular clubs on campus. Girls here learn not only the basic and advanced techniques of the modern dance but also grace and poise

Beginners learn fundamentals of good dancing under the capable eye of Miss Fairfax while the more advanced girls continue improving with Mrs. Mitten's help. Classes are taught folk, square dances, and modern dance

Here Everybody Takes Part

"Honor first, win or lose", governs all activity that GAA participates in. The only requirements are that a girl must want to make friends, enjoy sports, and like good old fashioned fun. The girls participate in playdays at our school, sportsdays at other high schools

They also enjoy co-educational playdays at various times throughout the year. GAA gives every girl a chance to participate, even if she is not outstanding in sports but still shows a desire to enter into the fun with enthusiasm. After all, what good is skill without zeal!

They Were Green But Good

Starting the season with no returning lettermen posed no problems for the Girls' Varsity Tennis Team. Expected to be cellar dwellers the girls surprised everyone by becoming real contenders. By April 5 they had won 11 matches and lost only 3 for a good year.

The team made numerous road trips and met many new friends. The Junior Varsity also had a good season, winning 4 matches while losing only 1. This looks promising for next year. Miss McDonald, as coach, has made an impressive record in her first year at PUHS.

TOP: THE WIND-UP, bat against ball, the call "safe" from the ump and cheers from fellow team mates is typical of P.U.'s girls baseball Lower Left: Zoom! Helen

Invigorating, Inviting And Fun

Phoenix Union has the reputation of being outstanding in athletics — this includes girls, too. At the P.U.'s girls gym the sports vary from softball, shuffleboard, tennis, basketball, ping pong, dancing, and baseball, changing every six weeks. Teams are selected from among the girls taking P.E. and competition begins to see who will win championships.

Dancing, including bop, waltz, jitterbug, folk dances, modern dances and even minuets, adds to the sportsmanship of the Physical Education department. Miss Bernell Maxey is department head Sponsor of Pom Pon is Mrs Billing; tennis team, Miss McDonald; Dance Club, Mrs. Mitten. Other teachers include Miss Fairfax, Miss Sanders, and Mrs. Plummer

Equal Bits – Work And Play

JOHN "YAWN" TANG, is dreaming of something nice! Could it be food? Girls? No, it's just the end of school! Senior girls Enochs, Mabry, and Chapman make life worth living for Crookston. On senior playday a good time was enjoyed by all at Encanto, and here's living proof! Next day seniors claimed they had missed school greatly!

THAT'S BETTER . . . Senior James Gregory gets a helping hand from Senior Shirley Bunfill in adjusting his cap and gown for graduation.

... OR DOES IT?

Some of the world's political systems just don't add up. So when you hear talk of Utopia (a much used name derived from the Greek for "nowhere"), be ready to question, see if it figures! Chances are it won't add up to the individual freedom of our own system of free enterprise ... won't have as fair a setup as taxation according to income ... won't include a choice of where we work or what we do with our money. Look over our own competitive system closely... it's not perfect but it works just fine... and we're free to improve it!
